Building Fellowship:

Helping others is the foundation stone of your recovery. A kindly act once in a while isn't enough. You have to act the Good Samaritan every day, if need be. 'Working with others'. Big Book, page 97

Once a foundation stone is set, it becomes a permanent part of whatever is built upon it. If the stone is later removed, the structure falls. Building recovery is an important part of 12-step fellowship. Making connections and helping others makes a difference in recovery.

Building Fellowship S-Groups Winter Conference will explore service, tools of recovery, boundaries, spirituality, relationships, and newcomer supports. Join us at the Norbertine Community in Albuquerque's South Valley for this growth and learning opportunity.
